Wide Variety Of Music Set

Bel Canto Chorus, which presents its second annual Spring concert May 14, will offer a program of such wide variety that it promises to tax the 80-voice musical organization to its limits. Director Eugene Fulton has selected a group of numbers ranging from Negro spirituals to the music of Johann Sebastian Bach.

No outside soloists will be used, it was announced. Soloists from the chorus include Marian Johnson, Mabel Duncan, Nyda Davis, A. H. McGovern, Joseph Cykman, and Fulton. Clarissa Bray will play the accompaniment for the entire program.

The May 14 concert is Bel Canto's first appearance in more than four months. In that time the organization has been drilled in the music of Bach, Franz Schubert, Gretchaninoff, Saint-Saens, Foulds, De Koven and Nobel Cain. The Negro spiritual "Listen to the Lambs" with which Bel Canto made a favorable impression at its first concert 16 months ago, will be included in the concert.

"When Children Pray," written by the blind California composer Beatrice Fenner, is a favorite with the members of the chorus. The men's chorus will sing an arrangement of an old English melody, "How Jolly Are We Beggars," arranged by James C. Fyfe.

Fyfe, who is well known on the Peninsula, will be in the audience to hear the arrangement of the old melody. His arrangements have been published in London, Paris, New York and Melbourne.

Also to be sung is Fulton's setting of Joyce Kilmer's "Trees" and a small group of the younger members of the chorus will sing their own arrangements of popular songs.

The concert is to be presented at the Sequoia High School auditorium in Redwood City.

Leaders, Technical Men Are in Demand

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Apr. 30—Former President Herbert Hoover's recent prediction that 90 per cent of Stanford graduates this year would find jobs is borne out by early indications in the university's appointment service office.

Two types are particularly in demand and can be certain of placement, according to Miss Ruth Tracksell, executive assistant in the office. They are the men and women with technical training and those who have displayed marked qualities of leadership.

"We have more calls than we can handle for people in these two groups," she explains, "but the student who has only general training and poor personal adjustment is always a problem."

Opportunities have improved somewhat in a few fields during the year, Miss Tracksell believes, although she points out that it is still too early to predict the June situation. Among the lines in which a demand has increased are teaching, chemistry, and engineering — particularly aeronautical and mechanical engineering.

Many firms and corporations, she said, provide their own specialized training but are seeking men and women with general education who have shown marked ability in leadership.

Weltner Takes Fire Post; Merrill Head

MENLO PARK—C. B. Weltner, Palo Alto automobile dealer, was sworn in as Menlo Park Fire District commissioner, and Charles H. Merrill, a commissioner for more than 20 years, was named chairman for the year at the first meeting of the commission since the election last month. Merrill succeeds H. J. Jepsen as chairman.

Label Contest Opens; Cash Prizes Offered

Money for just making your regular purchases!

That is what is offered in the big Cash Prize Label Contest for local housewives announced in this paper today on page 5.

Full details are given there of this unique contest, in which anyone is eligible to win prizes offered by a host of famous manufacturers.

The few special requirements laid down are simple and actually fun to comply with.

The main thing to do is read Page 5 carefully so you'll know what it's all about; tear out the page or make a list of the products and the votes they award, and put it in your purse. Or, you may use this handy list for your shopping convenience. The products that you buy which count for votes are listed below. You save the label, coupon or box

Roma macaroni pastes (cello).
Nucoa (box).
Fanning's bread and butter pickles (top).
Best Foods mustard (jar).
Pik Nik potato chips (label).
Pik Nik shoe string potatoes (label).
Tosca vegetable oil (can).
Pisa Brand tuna (can).
Pisa olive oil (can).
Ideal bread and cookies (wrapper).
Superior raviolis (box).
Presto cake flour (box).
California Sun Sweet prunes (box).
Folger's coffee (can).
Golden State milk (caps).
Golden State cream (caps).
Golden State butter (box).
Nulaid eggs (carton).
Tasty mayonnaise (jar).
F&P canned goods (label).
Golden Gate soap (box top).
Nehi (label).
Royal Crown Cola (top).
Par-T-Pak (top).
Canterbury tea (box).
Sunbrite cleanser (can).
Real Roast peanut butter (label).
Kraft cottage cheese (top).
Bond 17 dog food (top).

All these are products used daily in the home, so it's not difficult to participate. During the 13 weeks of the contest, the votes will count up fast. Each week contestants simply bring the label, coupon, can or whatever is required to the Redwood City Tribune office, 30 California St., where a special file will be kept for each contestant.

It's not complicated at all.

This is the manufacturer's way of advertising and having everyone get acquainted with his product.

Everyone has a chance at one of the prizes. It might be you!

Navy Flier Ex-Sequoian

His Redwood City friends recalled here that Andrew W. Bright, 26, Navy flying cadet who was tossed out of an airplane over Oakland Tuesday and landed safely with a parachute, was a graduate of Sequoia High School and formerly lived here.

In Sequoia he was prominent in student activities and was well-known in this city. He later attended Stanford University, from which he was graduated in 1935, and spent a year at Princeton University.

Bright, who became both hero and "goat" of the adventure, had forgotten to fasten his safety belt when he went aloft with Ensign Robert M. Bruning, his instructor. Bruning, seated ahead, signaled Bright to nose the ship.

The cadet followed orders. As the plane flipped into an upside down position he tumbled out of his seat.

For one terrifying moment Bright's fingertips clung to the cockpit's rounded rim. Then, yelling, he lost his grasp and plummeted earthward.

Fumbling desperately for the release ring on his parachute, he finally grabbed it and jerked hard. Horrified onlookers at the airport saw the 'chute unfold a scant 200 feet above the field. Bright bumped to a landing, only slightly bruised.

The cadet went up to Lieut. H. M. Sartoris, training school commandant, saluted and reported:

"A parachute landing, sir. Ready to go back up."

And, in the tradition of military flying service, back up he went with Ensign Bruning, who had witnessed the student's fall and taken over controls to land the plane.

On the second flight Bright's safety belt was fastened.

Patricide Enters Plea of 'Not Guilty'

George Steed, 22, charged with the murder of his father, Andrew, in Burlingame Mar. 10, pleaded not guilty in Judge Maxwell McNutt's court Monday morning. He did not enter an expected plea of "not guilty by reason of insanity." Steed did not waive trial by jury and the case was continued two weeks to be set for trial. His attorney is Joseph J. Bullock.

Registration Period Opens

Registration has opened for the YMCA summer camp, to be held June 23 to July 7 at Jones Gulch, five miles south of La Honda, according to George White, camp chairman for Peninsula Branch camps.

Local 'Y' committees have been working during the past year at the 927-acre site with building projects, getting the place ready for the opening. A new mess hall, kitchen and social room have been completed to accommodate 250 boys. Shower house and dressing rooms have been built for use with the outdoor pool, the largest and most modern one in San Mateo County. Warm, filtered water is used in the pool. A new hospital unit has been constructed, along with a new administration building. Electrical, water and sanitation projects are near completion.

During the camp period, there will be visiting days for parents on weekends and a special camp day July 4.

Gift of $1200 Made To Art Institute

SAN MATEO—Receipt of a gift of $1200 from Mrs. Stanley Lieber of San Mateo was announced here today by Ross McKee, founder of Music and Arts Institute, San Francisco. McKee also announced appointment of Conrad Huldshinsky, conductor and 'cellist, as instructor at the institute. The institute, located at 795 Sutter St., was formed in 1934 to train and foster young artists.

Success Greets Venture Undertaken at School

The expanded Sequoia High School employment service, which is now being co-sponsored by the Redwood City Exchange Club, already has succeeded in finding employment for three young graduates of the local school, James M. Eva, who is supervising the service, disclosed here.

Since announcement last Friday of the plans to have Sequoia be more aggressive in seeking work for youngsters, one office position, one gardening job, and a part-time creamery job have been secured for clients, Eva said.

The service has been operating quietly for some time at the school, three other graduates having recently been placed, one in a drug store, one in a bank, and one with a contractor.

The plan now is for the school, aided by members of the Exchange Club, to be more active in finding positions for graduates, and in finding workers for employers—workers who are qualified to fill the positions that are open.

Eva said that the State Employment Service had promised full co-operation, and would even help to the extent of supplying necessary application and record forms for the securing of information from clients and from employers. The service also will aid in placing local people in other localities where workers of certain types are not available, Eva reported. The Lockheed Aircraft firm has also been contacted and some applicants sent to that company in Oakland.

Employers desiring to have applicants sent to them to be interviewed as possible employes should contact Eva or Supt. A. C. Argo at Sequoia High School (Telephone Redwood 1980) or members of Eva's Exchange Club committee—Lloyd W. O'Donnell (San Carlos 827) or Kenneth L. Bowen (Redwood 2000).

GARDENING CLEAN-UP

Bomberg In Ministry

Kenneth Bomberg, long-time resident of Redwood City and son of Mrs. Frank Bittencourt of Palo Alto, will be ordained a minister Sunday, May 5, at 5 p.m. in the Mountain View Presbyterian Church by the San Jose Presbytery.

Bomberg, who attended grammar school and high school here, is a graduate of San Jose State College and for the past three years has been residing at San Francisco Theological Seminary at San Anselmo, from which he will be graduated May 9. He was married in September, 1939, to the daughter of Rev. W. B. Barnes of the Elk Grove Presbyterian Church.

Immediately after Bomberg's graduation from the seminary he and his wife will leave for Coulee City, Wash., site of the Grand Coulee Dam, where he will assume the pastorate of the only Protestant church in the community.

A sister of Bomberg, Mrs. Eleanor Bomberg Padgett, resides on Clinton St., Redwood City. Mrs. Bittencourt is the wife of an employe of the Palo Alto Community Center.

Another sister, Mrs. Henry Dolle, the former Marjorie Bomberg and wife of another Sequoia graduate, resides in Oakland and Bomberg's father, F. R. Bomberg, lives in Berkeley. Bomberg studied for a year at The Bible Institute in Los Angeles before entering the seminary at San Anselmo.

MENLO PARK NEWS NOTES

MENLO PARK—Coons around Atherton are playing havoc with chicken roosts of that aristocratic community. Even the select barnyard of former Sen. S. M. Shortridge was not overlooked by nocturnal prowlers. Last week several of his prize chickens were killed. Police Chief J. E. Farrell has his men working overtime chasing the marauders. The wooded dells of Atherton are the choice dwelling places of the raccoon.

The rumor of a new theater for Menlo Park is again being revived. This week it was said a new show building would be erected shortly on a piece of property on Santa Cruz Ave., not far from the highway. Let us hope the dream will come true, for if there is anything needed in Menlo Park more than another, it is a modern theater.

The trout season opened auspiciously Wednesday. Two local Ike Waltons, John McGucken and James McSwatt, sought the Waddell Creek and came home with the limit. The fish were good sized and plentiful in that region.

Pretty and charming Miss Jessica Smith, a former Menlo Park girl, was married at Reno Saturday last to Adolph Knauer by Judge William McKnight. The bride has been employed in the social service department at Community Hospital for some years. The young couple will reside at San Mateo. The Smith family have been long-time residents of Menlo Park.

Mrs. Ward Monroe left Wednesday for her old home in Kansas City to remain for three months. Mrs. Monroe was born and raised in that city and this is the first time in 20 years that she visited the old home. She has sisters and brothers there who will be pleased to greet her. Her real estate office on the highway will be in the charge of her chief clerk during her absence.

On May 7 a convocation of the clergy and layety of the diocese will take place at Trinity Episcopal Church. Services are to be held at 10:30 a.m., with a business meeting in the parish house, and a dinner in the evening. Rev. Mr. Fritz, the pastor, expects 150 guests to be here. He has been working hard to make the session a success.

Hans Agaard, who has been very ill, is recovering nicely. Mr. Agaard has been a resident of Menlo Park for 50 years and has many friends.

Menlo Parlor NDGW gave a whist party in Central School auditorium last night.

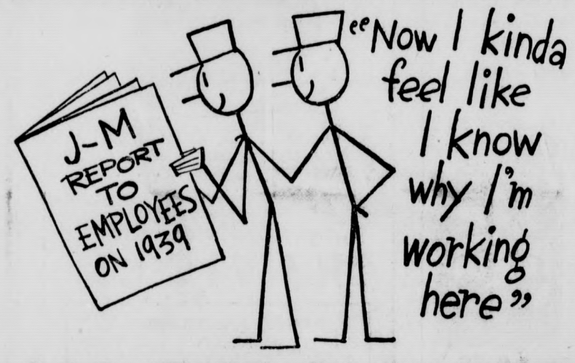

Mrs. Joseph Branco; her mother, Mrs. C. T. Thomas, and brother, Charles Thomas Jr., spent Saturday at the W. H. Weeden home. Mrs. Thomas is a sister of Mrs. Weeden.

Mrs. Frances Doherty and Mrs. Grace Douglass will direct the May fete at Municipal Recreation Park Saturday, May 4. Mrs. Douglass has been dividing her time between Central and Fremont Schools each Thursday and Friday for dance instructions and costume suggestions. There will be a May fete consisting of May Pole dance, costume dance of nations, parade of pets and Junior Olympics. Ribbons will be awarded to the first three winning contestants. The affair will start at 10 a.m.

Dear Johns-Manville Redwood City Plant

Stockholders in a company get annual reports on what's happened to their money. I understand that your company now gives annual reports to its workers on what's happened to their work. Is that right?

GEORGE CITIZEN

ALL THE FIGGERS FOR MY WORKERS

Dear George

In times past, workers for a big company "sailed under sealed orders." They didn't know where the company was going, and it was supposed that they didn't care much.

But times have changed, and many big companies today "tell all" to their workers. They lay the cards face up on the table for everybody to see. As Lewis H. Brown, President of my company says, it gives the workers facts "without which few of us can have a real understanding of the jobs we are doing and the problems we jointly face."

My company, for instance, has just published, for the third year, a Report to Jobholders in which it tells the workers as much about the company's financial affairs, sales, expenses and profits as it tells the company's stockholders about the same things. The figures are taken from the official accounts which have been certified by independent public accountants and are the basis in reports to the governmental authorities.

Among other things, the company's report to its employees tells that J-M had a pretty good year in 1939. Our sales totaled $53,847,177 and we paid out in wages $18,664,103.

Our taxes amounted to $2,118,000 — equal to $193 per year or 77 cents per work day for each jobholder.

We made a profit of 7 cents on each dollar taken in.

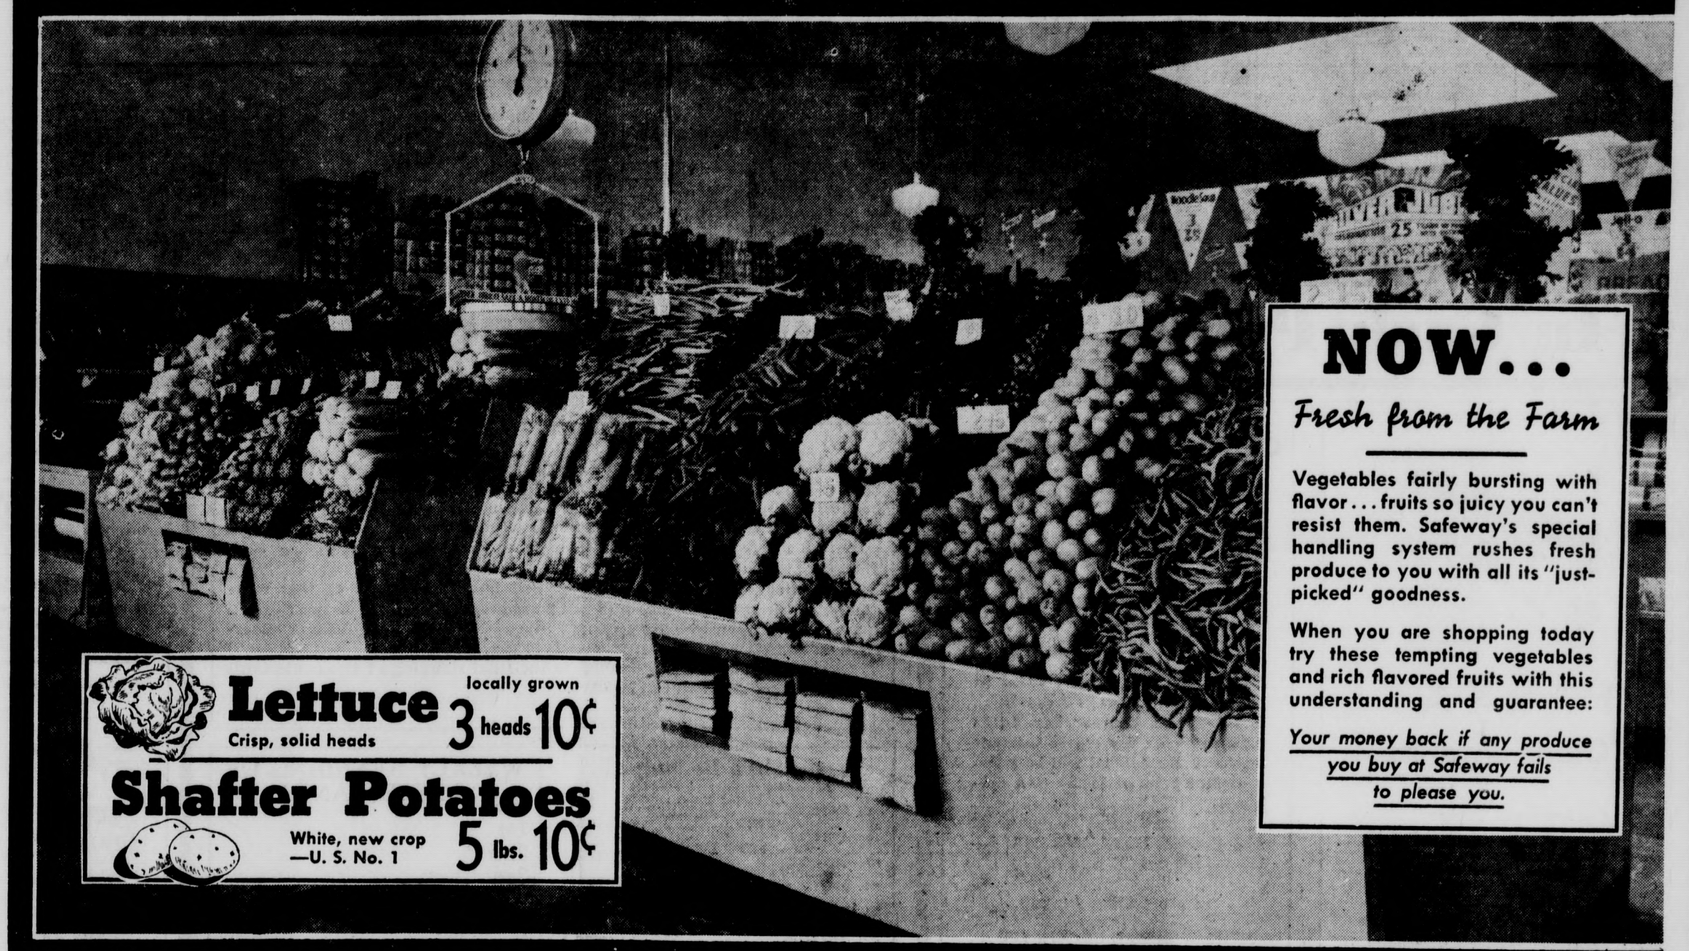

This year's report to J-M jobholders shows that out of every dollar my company paid out 27 cents for the raw materials from which we made J-M products. All other costs (transportation, electric power and fuel, telephone calls, research, advertising, rental and upkeep, taxes, and so forth) amounted to 34 cents out of each dollar.

This left 39 cents for wages, salaries, stockholders' dividends and to put aside for a rainy day. The jobholders got four-fifths of this, or 32 cents. Stockholders received 5 cents, and 2 cents was put away for emergencies.

My company feels that every worker should know what progress is being made and what is happening to the J-M sales dollar.

RULES OF CONTEST

The contest will run for 13 consecutive weeks. This page of nationally known products will appear in the Tribune each Thursday. The cans, bottles, labels, sacks or cartons of the products advertised on this page must be brought to the Tribune Contest Editor so your votes may be counted and tabulated under your name not later than Tuesday noon preceding each Thursday when this page appears.

The judges will be composed of well known residents of this community. Cash prizes totaling $210 will be awarded at the end of the thirteen weeks. It costs you nothing to enter. Start today. Use the products advertised on this page. Have your friends help you.

Awards will be made according to the final standing of the contestants and the judges' decision will be final.

Busy Month Seen for Port

Discharge of about 300,000 board feet of lumber from the schooner Esther Johnson Thursday at Port Redwood City has begun what Port Manager Leslie M. Rudy expects will be a busy month, he disclosed today.

April has been just an "average month," Rudy said, but indications are that May will show a decided rise in cargo discharges. As soon as Spring rains are definitely over, additional lands at the port will be paved for the storage of lumber, the manager said. Considerable space already has been surfaced but continually increasing receipt of cargoes here makes it necessary to expand the storage space.

PICK-UP DRINK

After brisk exercise in the cold air, a pick-up drink of hot spiced tea is invigorating. It's correct to serve it in large glass mugs, with sugar, a slice of lemon, a few cloves and a long stick of cinnamon to stir with.

Military engineers were formerly called trench-masters.

Wife of Burglar Raises $700 Cash To Retrieve Gems

SAN MATEO, Apr. 29 — John Pecten, San Mateo jeweler, "will not lose a dime" as the result of the burglary of his store last September, Police Chief Thomas F. Burke of San Mateo said today, but it will cost the family of William T. Dill, 38, of San Bruno, who confessed the burglary, more than $700.

Burke said that all of the $2650 worth of watches, rings and other jewelry has been recovered —or has been located and is being returned—since Dill assertedly confessed the burglary last week.

Dill already has been held to answer on a charge of burglarizing the store but Burke said his asserted confession had been delayed because Dill was trying to avoid involving his wife.

Burke declared today that some of the jewelry had been pawned in San Francisco, Salt Lake City and New York by Mrs. Dill. Since Dill confessed, Burke said, Mrs. Dill has raised $700 or has given his department valuables sufficient to redeem all the pawned jewelry.

Two of her own diamond rings are to be pawned to complete retrieving the jewelry, Burke said.

There have been no charges filed against Mrs. Dill.

Sequoia Plays 'Blue Bird'

Shirley Temple, as seen in Maurice Maeterlinck's "The Blue Bird," blithely shuts out the sound of the incessant quarrelling of her dog (Eddie Collins) and her cat (Gale Sondergard). This 20th Century Fox Technicolor production of the beloved story is now showing at the Fox Sequoia Theater on a double bill with "Adventure of Diamonds."

'Borderline' Divorce Case to Come Here

Scheduled for transfer to San Mateo County today was the "borderline" divorce case under submission in San Francisco Superior Court for the past month.

Mrs. Bessie Haines told the court that the fact that the San Francisco County line bisected her bedroom and left her double bed in the San Francisco half, qualified her as a resident of San Francisco.

Her husband, Theodore, now living in San Bruno, made no defense to the divorce action but pleaded that the San Francisco court had no jurisdiction. Judge Robert McWilliams agreed with him yesterday.

John Elmo Perry, counsel for Mrs. Haines, said the case would be transferred to San Mateo County. Mrs. Haines now lives in Redwood City.

REMOVE RINGS

Water rings on varnished furniture often can be removed by rubbing them with a cloth dipped in camphor. Work quickly and wipe dry with a clean soft cloth. Rub with furniture polish applied on a soft cloth.

'Cats' Work From Above

Hazardous working conditions which face state highway maintenance crews removing the slide which has blocked the Ocean Shore Hwy. at Devil's Slide near Point San Pedro will delay opening of the road for several weeks, it was announced Monday by the state maintenance headquarters at Burlingame.

Because of the sheer drop into the ocean and the quantities of loose material above, the caterpillar bulldozers have been forced to start from the top of the slide and work down, it was explained.

The big "cats" used an old Indian trail to reach a point where they could start work. At present they are 800 feet above the original roadbed, and are working in a series of benches toward the former right-of-way.

Not until the equipment reaches the highway level can it be determined how much of the roadbed was left in the slide which blocked the highway two weeks ago. It was the worst slide experienced on Ocean Shore Hwy. to date.

Bankers To Gather For Business Meet

More than 150 bankers from the five counties comprising Group 3 of California Bankers Association will meet at Pasatiempo Country Club, Santa Cruz, Saturday, for their Spring business conference, according to W. T. Rice, vice president of the Bank of America, Santa Cruz, and chairman of the group.

The group district includes Monterey, Santa Clara, San Benito, Santa Cruz and San Mateo counties.
